

The following statements demonstrate the strengths outlined in the report:

- The planning for personal, social, health and education (PSHE) is excellent.
- The school is clearly successful in helping pupils to become good learners and achieve well in all that they do.
- Pupils organise their work well; the quality of presentation is often high and always good.
- The spiritual, moral, social and cultural development of pupils continues to be good with outstanding features.
- By the time pupils leave school they have developed a strong set of values to guide them through adult life.
- They work and play well together and enjoy team games, where cooperation is very good.
- Assessment has become more effectively diagnostic and the tracking of pupils' progress is good, with some excellent learning support.
- The assessment of pupils is a strong feature of the teaching. Pupils have academic and personal targets, which are reviewed regularly with teachers.
- Relationships between pupils and teachers are always good and often excellent. This, combined with well-structured and purposeful lessons, create an ethos that is highly conducive to learning and good behaviour.
- The quality of care, support and guidance for all pupils is outstanding.
- The school has excellent links with parents and the community, fulfilling its aim to work closely with parents.
- Senior managers provide clear educational direction and work very well together.